The brass band boys are practicing hard every week and are getting in good shape. The boys feel very grateful to Pres. T. L. Allen for five dollars which the gentleman gave them with which to purchase music. They have some nice new pieces and it will only be a short time before Coalville can boast of a first class brass band.

It is reported that one-half of the potato crop has been raised in Morgan by the first of last week. This is a heavy loss to the farmers of that locality.

Prof. J. W. Robinson left Saturday for Park City, Salt Lake and Pocatello, where he had business to transact before returning to Vernal to resume his school work.

Quite a number of boys went up from here to witness the base ball game at Park City Sunday. Some of the boys got in a hot car intending to ride up, but when the train reached Washville the car was switched off, and the boys were left to walk back home.

Two members of the Salvation Army were here last Friday doing church work. They solicited subscriptions during the day and held a meeting at night on the street. This is the first time members of that sect have held forth in Coalville.

There are several small boys who make a practice of running to the depot when the train comes in, and if a serious accident results one of these days no one need be surprised. Parents should not allow the little fellows around the depot when the trains are in.

One of the heaviest frosts ever known in this section at this time of the year struck here last Saturday and Sunday nights. Potatoes and all tender vegetation were cut to the ground, and nearly a quarter of an inch of ice was frozen on the water. The greatest damage will be done to the grain, which had not started to ripen, but potatoes were far enough along not to be damaged to any extent. Some lettuce was injured.

William Clive, son of Prof. Clive of Salt Lake, is nursing a sore hand as the result of blood poison. The young man was working at Moore's ranch at Castle Rock last week and while helping repair a bridge fell in some water and caught his hand on a rusty nail, inflicting a bad wound which turned to blood poison. Dr. French dressed the wound and the poison was checked before resulting seriously.

The Brigham Young University announces that a course in nursing and obstetrics will be offered during the coming year, 1904-1905, under the direction of Frederick Clift, M. D., a graduate of Cambridge, England, as also of Keokuk Medical College, Keokuk, Ia., and a successful practitioner in Utah for the past fourteen years. The courses will extend throughout the year, each course requiring once per week. The tuition fee for both courses will be $20 per semester or $40 per year.

Coalville should have cheaper telephone service than we are getting at present. Subscriber has to pay from $1.50 to $2.00 per month more than is charged in Salt Lake City or Ogden. In the Coalville exchange there are only about twenty-four instruments and yet the rate is three times higher than it is in Salt Lake. The company should at least be willing to admit Haysville, Washville, Echo and Henciler into the exchange or else reduce the rate here to the same figure as it is paid where there is the service is obtained. We believe that if this matter was taken up and worked in the proper way that the rates would be reduced, and we suggest that all the subscribers combine and see what can be done in this regard.

James H. Taggart of Morgan barely escaped serious injury Wednesday afternoon. He was traveling over one of the large dogways near Echo, when a crowd of boys passed him. Just as they got within ten feet of his team they fired a shot gun which frightened his horse and one of the animals jumped over the dogway. Fortunately Mr. Taggart escaped without injury. Boys who indulge in such tricks as these should be arrested and prosecuted to the fullest extent. We understand that these fellows threatened to take a shot at Thomas Wright who was working in one of the test pits at the proposed reservoir. Mr. Wright had his head out of one of the pits and the boys pointed a gun at him and told him to get his head down. The young hoodlums were from the lower valley and had been up Weber on a fishing trip.

The article on "The Modern nursery" by Mildred K. Smith, and the fourth number of "Pardita's Problems" by Alice Chittenden, are to be features of special interest in the September number of the New Idea Woman's Magazine. These two papers are of instant value to all homemakers in their practical suggestions and helpfulness. Both are photographically illustrated. Miss Cery's articles on "Physical Culture" are letters written out of the sound knowledge of long experience in her special line of work, and may be depended upon as absolutely reliable in every respect. These articles are illustrated in such a way as to illuminate the specific directions given in the text.

"Fashions in Skirt-waists" and "Novelties in Men's Wear" are feature articles in the fashion department, which let to be enlarged hereafter by the addition of another fashion plate.

Editor of the Truth.

In last week's issue of Truth (7) the editor of that sheet intimates that The Coalville Times is in the pay of Senator Thomas Kearns, leaving his assertion open to the meeting of the Indian War Veterans, which was held at Springfield this week, published, together with the text of the bill introduced in the U. S. Senate, which had for its purpose the pensioning of those veterans of the Indian war, and an explanation of said bill, all of which appeared in our issue of Aug. 12th.

For the information of the esteemed editor of Truth, we beg leave to inform him that The Times repudiates the insinuation that it is in the pay of any person or persons whatever for any political purpose. This paper is non-partisan in politics and never knowingly allows matter that could not be so considered to be published in any of its issues. The matter to which exception has been made by Truth, was handed in by an old and respected veteran at both the Mexican and Indian wars, with the request that it be published for the information of his comrades. In the rush of getting out the paper the writer had not the time to examine the matter objected to by Truth; and hardly considered it necessary to give it critical examination, as full confidence was placed in the person who furnished the matter published, that nothing contrary to The Times well understood policy would be offered by him for publication.

PARTICULARS OF DEATH

OF WILLIAM T. BALL, KILLED BY LIGHTNING, SALT LAKE WEEK.

The full particulars of the untimely death of William T. Ball, who was struck and instantly killed by lightning at Washville last Wednesday, are about as follows:

The young man and his brother had just got through mowing a patch of grass when a heavy thunder storm struck that part. The boys hurried to the house and had no sooner reached shelter when the rain began to come down in torrents. The small gulches were soon filled and the roadways land submerged. The father, Joseph S. Ball, hearing that the water would wash away the chicken coop, went out to turn the stream of water. He was unable to do anything as wind blew the chicken coop for shelter. Being there for some time, the boy, Will, thought something was wrong so he ran out to where his father was, and the two stood in the door for a few minutes.

A younger boy had been sent to Washville some hours before the storm, and his father heard that he should get in the deep water in returning, so he left the chicken house and ran upon a hill to see if he could locate his boy. He had not gone very far when an extra heavy flash of lightning and thunder came. He turned quickly around and on looking at the chicken coop noticed the chickens flying in all directions, and that in the door of the small building was a sulphurous smoke. He ran quickly back to the coop and upon reaching the body of his son lying on the floor. He called him on and spoke to him, but could get no reply. The lightning had struck his head and the boy was carried to the house and the parents and neighbors worked with him for over two hours until a doctor arrived from Haysville, when the work was ended, but it was all in vain.

Lightning struck the young man as he stood with his hat on his head and the edge. It hit down his back and out of his feet tearing the flesh from his shoes.

A body was brought to Coalville Tuesday night for burial, and the funeral was held Friday afternoon from the Tabernacle, where Prof. Clive conducted the services. The deceased was a son of Joseph S. Ball and W. W. Clive, who made appropriate remarks. Mrs. W. G. Haller very beautifully sang the solo, "Beyond the Shadow," and as the closing hymn, Mrs. Frank Evans sang "O Grave Where is the Victory," the choir joining in the chorus.

The building was neatly decorated with drapery and potted plants, and the floral offerings were beautiful and numerous.

The sympathy of the whole community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Ball in their bereavement. Deceased was a good young man always ready and willing to assist his parents. He leaves three small children, his wife having died about five years ago. He carried $1,000 insurance in the Macintosh order of Knavehood, and $1,000 in the Mutual Life Insurance Co. Deceased was born at Albany 22 years ago. He was to have been married in a few weeks to a young lady in Albany. He had been a member of the Castle Rock school board for several years and was faithful to every trust given to his charge.

TO WILLIE.

A distant son, loyal friend, loving and true, Willie, this epitaph truly applies unto you, but Oh, what an anguish to see you depart! For days and nights are deep from the heart, and your work is accomplished, the price you have won, and our trust is to meet you in the heavenly home.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express through these columns our most sincere thanks to our kind neighbors and all who assisted us in any way during the sad death of our son. Also to those who took part at the funeral, especially the speakers and singers.

MR. AND MRS. J. E. BALL.

ONE WOMAN AMONG A THOUSAND.

We received a letter from Waverock, Ga. from a woman who had been troubled with female complaint for a long time until she was reduced to almost a shadow. I selected her name, she could not remember any thing, would get confused and so nervous and irritable, she could hardly sleep. She described her case as one similar to thousands of other women, and then she told the letter by saying she had gained 16 lbs. last month and never felt better in her life, having no trace of her former troubles, slept well, and ate her meals with a relish. She recommended the use of Dr. (Gon's) Blood and Nerve Tonic. Just six weeks before she wrote the letter from which we copied the above. This tonic is in Tablets, and should be taken right after meals. It turns the food you eat into rich, strong blood, feeding the nerves and curing disease by making healthy flesh. Sold by all druggists for 75¢ per box or 2 boxes for $2.00. Pale, weak, thin people should use this tonic.
